Allowable Subject Matter

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art teaches the use of a video camera system that allows both the flash angle and focal length position of the camera to be adjusted in conjunction with each other. However, the prior art does not teach the use of a camera system that has a control device which controls a first changing device and a second changing device to change the flash angle in accordance with the change in the focal length until a mode of the recording device is changed to a still image mode. Therefore, the claims are allowed over the prior art. The closest prior art teaches a video camera system that controls the flash angle in accordance with the position of the focal length for a moving image mode of a camera and does not teach performing this function until the recording device is changed to a still image mode.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion
